

Observer & Reporter

D. C. WICKLIFFE, EDITOR.

UNION NOMINATIONS.

FOR PRESIDENT.

JOHN BELL,
OF TENNESSEE.

FOR VICE PRESIDENT,
EDWARD EVERETT,
OF MASSACHUSETTS.

FOR CLERK OF THE COURT OF APPEALS,
GEN. LESLIE COMPTON,
OF Fayette.

COUNTY NOMINATIONS.

FOR SUPERINTENDENT,
JOSEPH R. GROSS,

FOR JAILOR,
WILLIAM H. LUSBY,

FOR CORONER,
ELI C. GARNER,

CITY NOMINATIONS.

FOR MARSHAL,
WILLIAM MURPHY,

FOR ASSISTANT MARSHAL,
CHARLES H. WICKLIFFE.

LEXINGTON, JULY 25 1860

WM. H. WADSWORTH,
Union Candidate for State Elector
Will speak in this city on Friday evening, not at 8 o'clock.

We presume this announcement will be sufficient to secure for this exceedingly able and eloquent advocate our cause a large audience; and we can safely promise all who may attend an intellectual treat such as they have rarely had.

We trust that as many of our friends from the country as can make it convenient will be present. The nights are light and pleasant, and as this is the only opportunity Mr. Wadsworth will have of addressing the people of Fayette, we are desirous that as many of them as possible should avail themselves of the occasion now offered.

Union Club—Enthusiastic Bell and Everett Meeting.—The meeting at the Court House on Monday night, to form a Union Club, was an evidence of earnest enthusiasm and zeal, such as the present has not before deserved in this city. An unusually interesting room could scarce be obtained within the house, while others were collected in the yard about the windows. Not only the people of all classes in the city were gathered in large numbers, but many from the country, some from distant points, who had come to participate in the proceedings, and never at any time in so large a political assembly, have we witnessed such close and respectful attention to the speakers throughout. Through the speaking continued to a late hour, no head of the Union Club—Enthusiastic Bell and Everett

Meeting.—The meeting at the Court House on Monday night, to form a Union Club, was an evidence of earnest enthusiasm and zeal, such as the present has not before deserved in this city. An unusually interesting room could scarce be obtained within the house, while others were collected in the yard about the windows. Not only the people of all classes in the city were gathered in large numbers, but many from the country, some from distant points, who had come to participate in the proceedings, and never at any time in so large a political assembly, have we witnessed such close and respectful attention to the speakers throughout. Through the speaking

continued to a late hour, no head of the Union Club—Enthusiastic Bell and Everett

Meeting.—The meeting at the Court House on Monday night, to form a Union Club, was an evidence of earnest enthusiasm and zeal, such as the present has not before deserved in this city. An unusually interesting room could scarce be obtained within the house, while others were collected in the yard about the windows. Not only the people of all classes in the city were gathered in large numbers, but many from the country, some from distant points, who had come to participate in the proceedings, and never at any time in so large a political assembly, have we witnessed such close and respectful attention to the speakers throughout. Through the speaking

continued to a late hour, no head of the Union Club—Enthusiastic Bell and Everett

Meeting.—The meeting at the Court House on Monday night, to form a Union Club, was an evidence of earnest enthusiasm and zeal, such as the present has not before deserved in this city. An unusually interesting room could scarce be obtained within the house, while others were collected in the yard about the windows. Not only the people of all classes in the city were gathered in large numbers, but many from the country, some from distant points, who had come to participate in the proceedings, and never at any time in so large a political assembly, have we witnessed such close and respectful attention to the speakers throughout. Through the speaking

continued to a late hour, no head of the Union Club—Enthusiastic Bell and Everett

Meeting.—The meeting at the Court House on Monday night, to form a Union Club, was an evidence of earnest enthusiasm and zeal, such as the present has not before deserved in this city. An unusually interesting room could scarce be obtained within the house, while others were collected in the yard about the windows. Not only the people of all classes in the city were gathered in large numbers, but many from the country, some from distant points, who had come to participate in the proceedings, and never at any time in so large a political assembly, have we witnessed such close and respectful attention to the speakers throughout. Through the speaking

continued to a late hour, no head of the Union Club—Enthusiastic Bell and Everett

Meeting.—The meeting at the Court House on Monday night, to form a Union Club, was an evidence of earnest enthusiasm and zeal, such as the present has not before deserved in this city. An unusually interesting room could scarce be obtained within the house, while others were collected in the yard about the windows. Not only the people of all classes in the city were gathered in large numbers, but many from the country, some from distant points, who had come to participate in the proceedings, and never at any time in so large a political assembly, have we witnessed such close and respectful attention to the speakers throughout. Through the speaking

continued to a late hour, no head of the Union Club—Enthusiastic Bell and Everett

Meeting.—The meeting at the Court House on Monday night, to form a Union Club, was an evidence of earnest enthusiasm and zeal, such as the present has not before deserved in this city. An unusually interesting room could scarce be obtained within the house, while others were collected in the yard about the windows. Not only the people of all classes in the city were gathered in large numbers, but many from the country, some from distant points, who had come to participate in the proceedings, and never at any time in so large a political assembly, have we witnessed such close and respectful attention to the speakers throughout. Through the speaking

continued to a late hour, no head of the Union Club—Enthusiastic Bell and Everett

Meeting.—The meeting at the Court House on Monday night, to form a Union Club, was an evidence of earnest enthusiasm and zeal, such as the present has not before deserved in this city. An unusually interesting room could scarce be obtained within the house, while others were collected in the yard about the windows. Not only the people of all classes in the city were gathered in large numbers, but many from the country, some from distant points, who had come to participate in the proceedings, and never at any time in so large a political assembly, have we witnessed such close and respectful attention to the speakers throughout. Through the speaking

continued to a late hour, no head of the Union Club—Enthusiastic Bell and Everett

Meeting.—The meeting at the Court House on Monday night, to form a Union Club, was an evidence of earnest enthusiasm and zeal, such as the present has not before deserved in this city. An unusually interesting room could scarce be obtained within the house, while others were collected in the yard about the windows. Not only the people of all classes in the city were gathered in large numbers, but many from the country, some from distant points, who had come to participate in the proceedings, and never at any time in so large a political assembly, have we witnessed such close and respectful attention to the speakers throughout. Through the speaking

continued to a late hour, no head of the Union Club—Enthusiastic Bell and Everett

Meeting.—The meeting at the Court House on Monday night, to form a Union Club, was an evidence of earnest enthusiasm and zeal, such as the present has not before deserved in this city. An unusually interesting room could scarce be obtained within the house, while others were collected in the yard about the windows. Not only the people of all classes in the city were gathered in large numbers, but many from the country, some from distant points, who had come to participate in the proceedings, and never at any time in so large a political assembly, have we witnessed such close and respectful attention to the speakers throughout. Through the speaking

continued to a late hour, no head of the Union Club—Enthusiastic Bell and Everett

Meeting.—The meeting at the Court House on Monday night, to form a Union Club, was an evidence of earnest enthusiasm and zeal, such as the present has not before deserved in this city. An unusually interesting room could scarce be obtained within the house, while others were collected in the yard about the windows. Not only the people of all classes in the city were gathered in large numbers, but many from the country, some from distant points, who had come to participate in the proceedings, and never at any time in so large a political assembly, have we witnessed such close and respectful attention to the speakers throughout. Through the speaking

continued to a late hour, no head of the Union Club—Enthusiastic Bell and Everett

Meeting.—The meeting at the Court House on Monday night, to form a Union Club, was an evidence of earnest enthusiasm and zeal, such as the present has not before deserved in this city. An unusually interesting room could scarce be obtained within the house, while others were collected in the yard about the windows. Not only the people of all classes in the city were gathered in large numbers, but many from the country, some from distant points, who had come to participate in the proceedings, and never at any time in so large a political assembly, have we witnessed such close and respectful attention to the speakers throughout. Through the speaking

continued to a late hour, no head of the Union Club—Enthusiastic Bell and Everett

Meeting.—The meeting at the Court House on Monday night, to form a Union Club, was an evidence of earnest enthusiasm and zeal, such as the present has not before deserved in this city. An unusually interesting room could scarce be obtained within the house, while others were collected in the yard about the windows. Not only the people of all classes in the city were gathered in large numbers, but many from the country, some from distant points, who had come to participate in the proceedings, and never at any time in so large a political assembly, have we witnessed such close and respectful attention to the speakers throughout. Through the speaking

continued to a late hour, no head of the Union Club—Enthusiastic Bell and Everett

Meeting.—The meeting at the Court House on Monday night, to form a Union Club, was an evidence of earnest enthusiasm and zeal, such as the present has not before deserved in this city. An unusually interesting room could scarce be obtained within the house, while others were collected in the yard about the windows. Not only the people of all classes in the city were gathered in large numbers, but many from the country, some from distant points, who had come to participate in the proceedings, and never at any time in so large a political assembly, have we witnessed such close and respectful attention to the speakers throughout. Through the speaking

continued to a late hour, no head of the Union Club—Enthusiastic Bell and Everett

Meeting.—The meeting at the Court House on Monday night, to form a Union Club, was an evidence of earnest enthusiasm and zeal, such as the present has not before deserved in this city. An unusually interesting room could scarce be obtained within the house, while others were collected in the yard about the windows. Not only the people of all classes in the city were gathered in large numbers, but many from the country, some from distant points, who had come to participate in the proceedings, and never at any time in so large a political assembly, have we witnessed such close and respectful attention to the speakers throughout. Through the speaking

continued to a late hour, no head of the Union Club—Enthusiastic Bell and Everett

where on the night of the first Monday in August as will cheer their hearts and stimulate their efforts for the final battle in November. They are true to the principles and aims of their immortal leader, whose remains repose in their midst, and they will never abandon the cause of the Union and the Constitution.

COUNTY ELECTORS.—H. C. DUNLAP and WICKLIFFE CLOVER, Esq., have been appointed by the Central Committee Assistant Electors for Bell and Everett in the county of Fayette. They intend to make an accurate and full canvass of the county, and from their efforts great results will certainly follow. They have already made a list of appointments in connection with Messrs. Brock and Allen, Democratic Assistant County Electors, which appear in another part of this day's paper.

Both our great young candidates for Elector for the State at large, Wm. H. Wadsworth, of Mason, and E. L. Vanwinkle of Wayne, have commenced the canvass of the State with great vigor, and all accounts represent the speeches of both as attended with extraordinary enthusiasm. Mr. Vanwinkle made a speech at Somers last week, a graphic account of which we have read, and the general drift of it was certainly admirable and effective. We trust it will not be long before the people of Fayette will have the pleasure of hearing both these able and eloquent advocates of the Union cause.

Gen. Combs, the Union candidate for the Court of Appeals, is prosecuting the canvass with great zeal and ability, and meets with signal evidences of favor wherever he goes, not only from his own party, but from the Democratic party. If his friends everywhere are as active and energetic for him now as until the election, as they may attend an intellectual treat such as they have rarely had.

There are now four candidates for the office in the field, viz: Leslie Combs, of Fayette, R. B. Bolling, Democratic Senator, Clinton McCrory, Breckinridge Senator, and Brent Hopkins, of Oldham, Independent Democrat.

The Union men of Mason had a glorious meeting on May 1st, on Saturday, at the Court House, and the speakers were Dr. H. C. DUNLAP, Mr. W. H. Wadsworth, and Gen. E. L. Vanwinkle, of Wayne, and the meeting was a success.

The Fall Fair of the Southwestern Agricultural and Mechanical Association, at Louisville, will commence on the 4th of September, and continue during the week.

Death of Joseph Gales.—The telegraph announces the death of Joseph Gales Esq., the senior editor of the National Intelligencer. Mr. Gales was in the 75th year of his age. He was a man of great energy and ability, and for more than half a century had been connected with the press of this country, of which he was the leading editor. He was in the strictest sense a Democrat, and it will be difficult to supply his place in the editorial corps of the nation.

Great Bell and Everett Meeting in Cincinnati.—The largest political gathering ever witnessed in Cincinnati took place there on Friday evening last. It had been called by upwards of two hundred of the most substantial and influential citizens of Hamilton county, and the turn out on the occasion was fully equal to the extraordinary number which had been expected. So large was it that it was necessary to have a second meeting at the same hour, and the speakers were addressed in both.

The people of Clark were addressed on Monday of last week at Winchester, by Capt. Roger W. Hanson, of this city, and Gen. John B. Harlan, of Louisville.

At the meeting at the Court House on Monday night, to form a Union Club, was an evidence of earnest enthusiasm and zeal, such as the present has not before deserved in this city. Among the speakers were Capt. Roger W. Hanson and Gen. E. L. Vanwinkle, of Wayne, and the meeting was a success.

The Fall Fair of the Southwestern Agricultural and Mechanical Association, at Louisville, will commence on the 4th of September, and continue during the week.

Death of Joseph Gales.—The telegraph announces the death of Joseph Gales Esq., the senior editor of the National Intelligencer. Mr. Gales was in the 75th year of his age. He was a man of great energy and ability, and for more than half a century had been connected with the press of this country, of which he was the leading editor. He was in the strictest sense a Democrat, and it will be difficult to supply his place in the editorial corps of the nation.

Great Bell and Everett Meeting in Cincinnati.—The largest political gathering ever witnessed in Cincinnati took place there on Friday evening last. It had been called by upwards of two hundred of the most substantial and influential citizens of Hamilton county, and the turn out on the occasion was fully equal to the extraordinary number which had been expected. So large was it that it was necessary to have a second meeting at the same hour, and the speakers were addressed in both.

The people of Clark were addressed on Monday of last week at Winchester, by Capt. Roger W. Hanson, of this city, and Gen. John B. Harlan, of Louisville.

At the meeting at the Court House on Monday night, to form a Union Club, was an evidence of earnest enthusiasm and zeal, such as the present has not before deserved in this city. Among the speakers were Capt. Roger W. Hanson and Gen. E. L. Vanwinkle, of Wayne, and the meeting was a success.

The Fall Fair of the Southwestern Agricultural and Mechanical Association, at Louisville, will commence on the 4th of September, and continue during the week.

Death of Joseph Gales.—The telegraph announces the death of Joseph Gales Esq., the senior editor of the National Intelligencer. Mr. Gales was in the 75th year of his age. He was a man of great energy and ability, and for more than half a century had been connected with the press of this country, of which he was the leading editor. He was in the strictest sense a Democrat, and it will be difficult to supply his place in the editorial corps of the nation.

Great Bell and Everett Meeting in Cincinnati.—The largest political gathering ever witnessed in Cincinnati took place there on Friday evening last. It had been called by upwards of two hundred of the most substantial and influential citizens of Hamilton county, and the turn out on the occasion was fully equal to the extraordinary number which had been expected. So large was it that it was necessary to have a second meeting at the same hour, and the speakers were addressed in both.

The people of Clark were addressed on Monday of last week at Winchester, by Capt. Roger W. Hanson, of this city, and Gen. John B. Harlan, of Louisville.

At the meeting at the Court House on Monday night, to form a Union Club, was an evidence of earnest enthusiasm and zeal, such as the present has not before deserved in this city. Among the speakers were Capt. Roger W. Hanson and Gen. E. L. Vanwinkle, of Wayne, and the meeting was a success.

The Fall Fair of the Southwestern Agricultural and Mechanical Association, at Louisville, will commence on the 4th of September, and continue during the week.

Death of Joseph Gales.—The telegraph announces the death of Joseph Gales Esq., the senior editor of the National Intelligencer. Mr. Gales was in the 75th year of his age. He was a man of great energy and ability, and for more than half a century had been connected with the press of this country, of which he was the leading editor. He was in the strictest sense a Democrat, and it will be difficult to supply his place in the editorial corps of the nation.

Great Bell and Everett Meeting in Cincinnati.—The largest political gathering ever witnessed in Cincinnati took place there on Friday evening last. It had been called by upwards of two hundred of the most substantial and influential citizens of Hamilton county, and the turn out on the occasion was fully equal to the extraordinary number which had been expected. So large was it that it was necessary to have a second meeting at the same hour, and the speakers were addressed in both.

The people of Clark were addressed on Monday of last week at Winchester, by Capt. Roger W. Hanson, of this city, and Gen. John B. Harlan, of Louisville.

At the meeting at the Court House on Monday night, to form a Union Club, was an evidence of earnest enthusiasm and zeal, such as the present has not before deserved in this city. Among the speakers were Capt. Roger W. Hanson and Gen. E. L. Vanwinkle, of Wayne, and the meeting was a success.

The Fall Fair of the Southwestern Agricultural and Mechanical Association, at Louisville, will commence on the 4th of September, and continue during the week.

Death of Joseph Gales.—The telegraph announces the death of Joseph Gales Esq., the senior editor of the National Intelligencer. Mr. Gales was in the 75th year of his age. He was a man of great energy and ability, and for more than half a century had been connected with the press of this country, of which he was the leading editor. He was in the strictest sense a Democrat, and it will be difficult to supply his place in the editorial corps of the nation.

Great Bell and Everett Meeting in Cincinnati.—The largest political gathering ever witnessed in Cincinnati took place there on Friday evening last. It had been called by upwards of two hundred of the most substantial and influential citizens of Hamilton county, and the turn out on the occasion was fully equal to the extraordinary number which had been expected. So large was it that it was necessary to have a second meeting at the same hour, and the speakers were addressed in both.

The people of Clark were addressed on Monday of last week at Winchester, by Capt. Roger W. Hanson, of this city, and Gen. John B. Harlan, of Louisville.

At the meeting at the Court House on Monday night, to form a Union Club, was an evidence of earnest enthusiasm and zeal, such as the present has not before deserved in this city. Among the speakers were Capt. Roger W. Hanson and Gen. E. L. Vanwinkle, of Wayne, and the meeting was a success.

The Fall Fair of the Southwestern Agricultural and Mechanical Association, at Louisville, will commence on the 4th of September, and continue during the week.

Death of Joseph Gales.—The telegraph announces the death of Joseph Gales Esq., the senior editor of the National Intelligencer. Mr. Gales was in the 75th year of his age. He was a man of great energy and ability, and for more than half a century had been connected with the press of this country, of which he was the leading editor. He was in the strictest sense a Democrat, and it will be difficult to supply his place in the editorial corps of the nation.

Great Bell and Everett Meeting in Cincinnati.—The largest political gathering ever witnessed in Cincinnati took place there on Friday evening last. It had been called by upwards of two hundred of the most substantial and influential citizens of Hamilton county, and the turn out on the occasion was fully equal to the extraordinary number which had been expected. So large was it that it was necessary to have a second meeting at the same hour, and the speakers were addressed in both.

The people of Clark were addressed on Monday of last week at Winchester, by Capt. Roger W. Hanson, of this city, and Gen. John B. Harlan, of Louisville.

At the meeting at the Court House on Monday night, to form a Union Club, was an evidence of earnest enthusiasm and zeal, such as the present has not before deserved in this city. Among the speakers were Capt. Roger W. Hanson and Gen. E. L. Vanwinkle, of Wayne, and the meeting was a success.

The Fall Fair of the Southwestern